Job Title: Mahila Housing Trust (MHT) - Field organizer

Location: Bangalore, Karnataka

About the Organization: Mahila Housing Trust (MHT) was founded with the mission of improving the housing, living and working environments of the poor women in informal sector. It works on the intersection of urban development, climate change and habitat improvement for the poor. As of date, it is present in 1000+ slums across various cities of India.

Job Description:

1. Conducting community meetings and identifying the needs of community in terms of basic services and infrastructure like water, sanitation, livelihoods, etc.
2. Resolving community issues and collecting beneficiary feedback
3. Formation of Community Action Groups (CAGs) for relevant work
4. Sensitizing and building capacities of Community based organization (slum residents) for relevant projects
5. Helping the interns and volunteers in their community interactions
6. Support and undertake training based on guidance from office
7. Conduct exposure visits etc.
8. Women candidates are strongly encouraged to apply

Full-time positions: 2

Languages: Kannada/Tamil is a must and additional knowledge of Hindi is preferable

Eligibility/ Academic Qualification: 12th pass/Under Graduate/Graduate

Experience: 1-2 years of work experience in field work.

Expected Attributes:

1. Willingness to learn
2. Willingness to travel within Bangalore and communicate efficiently
3. Work with the team efficiently
4. Willingness to work with informal settlements

Additional Attributes:

1. Basic Computer Skills (Excel and Word) and able to use email facility

Remuneration: Remuneration will be based on the qualifications and experience of the applicant

Interested candidates can mail their Curriculum Vitae with the Subject line “Application for Field Organizer - Bangalore” to info@mahilahsg.org.

Last date to apply: 20th March, 2022